Rick Mannerino, CS

Rick has been listed as a fulltime practitioner in the Christian Science Journal for eighteen years. He is a resident of Pacific Beach (San Diego), California. On most Sundays he teaches a 2 1/2-hour class about Christian Science at the Marine Corps Recruitment Depot (MCRD), San Diego -- where the United States Marines Corps sends their recruits from the western half of the states to begin boot camp. In addition, he is the proud parent of a sophomore university student. Rick has found his favorite moments occur during fishing and surfing adventures.
